Centre for English Language in the University of South Australia (CELUSA) Scholarship.

School of Art, Architecture and Design (AAD).

Who is it for?
Designed to assist students to meet the required English proficiency level.

How does it work?
- Purchase your required English language training at CELUSA
- When your English standard is in line with IELTS requirements articulate into a choice of Art, Architecture and Design programs
- After enrolling at university, in your second study period in the same program, you will be reimbursed for 1 x 10 week block of CELUSA tuition (approximate value of AUD$4,000)
- Students must meet all academic and other selection criteria (except for minimum English) for their chosen program to be eligible for this reimbursement.

For all Art, Architecture and Design programs:
- Bachelor of Architectural Studies (DBAE)
- Bachelor of Design (Product Design) (DBPR)
- Bachelor of Design (Communication Design) (DBVC)
- Bachelor of Interior Architecture (DBIR)
- Bachelor of Visual Arts (Specialisation) (DBVS)
- Master of Architecture (DMAE)
- Master of Design (Communication Design) (DMSP)*
- Master of Design (Design and Construct) (DMSP)*
- Master of Design (Industrial Design) (DMSP)*
- Master of Design (Interior Architecture) (DMSP)*
- Master of Design (Sustainable Design) (DMSP)*
- Master of Visual Art and Creative Practice (DMVC)*

* Also offered as a Graduate Diploma

For more information on these programs please visit unisa.edu.au/AAD

AUD$4,000
(approximate value)

Find out more
For further information contact:
Division of Education, Arts and Social Sciences: International Relations +61 8 8302 4829
diveasinternational@unisa.edu.au or
School of Art, Architecture and Design
+61 8 8302 0684
AADStudy@unisa.edu.au