

Tony Stapledon is a Research Director at the Institute for Sustainable Futures, UTS. After twenty years as Director of architectural firms, working in Australia, SE Asia, the UK and UAE, he is finalising research for his PhD in Economics at Sydney University entitled “Offices as Tools for Organisational Sustainability”. He will adopt the role of ‘early researcher’ on this project.