MILNE, F. Kenneth

F. Kenneth Milne (18/07/1885–3/10/1980) was one of South Australia's most well-known, prolific and popular early- to mid-twentieth century architects. He resisted modernism and remained a devotee of the Georgian style throughout his life.

After attending Glenelg Public School for his primary education and North Adelaide Public School for his secondary schooling, Milne received private finishing tuition. He began his architectural career around 1900 when he was articled to Alfred Wells. He then worked as a draftsman for Wells until 1906 when, against Wells' advice, he moved to Sydney to seek architectural experience, working as a draftsman for Robertson & Marks.

When Milne returned to Adelaide in April 1909 and established his own practice, two of his first commissions influenced his early career. The Hampshire Hotel in Grote Street (1910) led the South Australian Brewing Co. Ltd to commission hotels in both metropolitan and rural areas, and the Adelaide Oval Scoreboard (1911) was so revered that the South Australian Cricket Association became a longstanding client. Over time, Milne established a reputation for domestic architecture and he designed many large residences for wealthy members of Adelaide's establishment. However, he also undertook charitable work and at the outbreak of World War One was an honorary architect for the Red Cross (S.A. Division), a role that continued into the post-war years.

In 1912 Milne took on John Richard Schomburgk Evans as his first articled pupil. Evans completed his articles in 1915 but then enlisted to fight in World War One. He returned to Adelaide in 1920 and became Milne's first partner, the practice becoming F. Kenneth Milne and Evans. Milne's second articled pupil, Charles Alexander Russell, became a partner in 1925. After the partnership was terminated, Milne operated as a sole practitioner from 1931 until 1946. Over the following decades other partners joined Milne, including Rolfe V. Boehm (1946), Lindsay C. Dawkins (1946), Russell S. Ellis (c.1947), F.P. Bulbeck (c.mid-1950s) and John Twopeny (1960).

Milne's significant Adelaide buildings include Lister House (North Terrace, 1927) and the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society Building (Waymouth Street, 1928). Travels in Britain and Europe in 1933 awakened a keen interest in Georgian architecture, particularly the work of Robert and James Adam, and this influence can be seen in his designs for Arbury Park (c.1930s) and his own house, Sunnyside, in North Adelaide (1936).

Other important buildings include Goldsbrough House (North Terrace, 1935) and the H.C. Sleigh building (Pirie Street, 1950s). While its Georgian style was criticised, the Sleigh building illustrates a significant transition point in the state's architectural history when traditional Classical designs were still considered relevant by some architects even in the face of modernism. Reluctant to embrace modernism, Milne gradually retired from practice during the period from 1956 to 1962.

Milne played an active role in the profession: he was President of the South Australian Institute of Architects (SAIA) from August 1937 to August 1939; a founding member of the Architects' Board of South Australia which administered the Architects' Act governing the registration of architects; and helped establish the Chair of Architecture at the University of Adelaide and was a member of the Faculty of Town Planning and Architecture. This association with the University was reinforced when he established the Kenneth and Hazel Milne Travelling Scholarship in Architecture for architecture students. His contribution to architecture was recognised during his lifetime: the first SAIA Award of Merit for Domestic Architecture for Sunnyside (1944), Her Majesty's Coronation Medal (1953) and Life Fellow of the Royal Australian Institute of Architects (1970).

Notes to Milne Collection

On plans;

- Oldest plan is copy of one of Marble Hill, the now ruined Vice-Regal residence.
- Plans dated 1921, '22, '23 seem to be drawn by Milne himself; most are drawn by other members of the firm.
- Some of the earlier plans are hand-tinted by Milne.
- Job numbers do not always indicate sequence of jobs over time
- Item numbers do not always indicate any particular order, since all the plans were received in a jumble owing to numerous moves of the records.
- Plans are mostly for well-to-do people or larger firms.
- Plans originally came in large brown envelopes with a number on the front as well as the name of the client. This number is reflected on the card index.

MILNE, F. Kenneth COLLECTION
Architecture Museum, University of South Australia

- Materials (i.e., media) in the collection vary and include plain newspaper, tracing and tissue paper, linen, butter paper, cartridge paper, ozalids and blueprints.
- Some plans are in very poor condition; some had to be buffered due to acidic properties or sticky adhesives. Many remain folded and creased.

Series 3
Special List

This series mounted in a photograph album (2 feet long by 1 foot 6 inches wide). Original list of album contents was made by Susan Woodburn when the Milne Collection was first received. The second list, in order found in the album, was made by Ann Riddle in 2001. Some pages were blank and some were unlabelled giving no idea as to who owned the house or its location. Most plans and photos were stuck onto the pages of the album. Original stored in oversize parcels in compactus.

Architectural Drawings

Series 5
Special List

Buildings designed by F. Kenneth Milne 1916-1974. These drawings were initially received in numbered envelopes often containing sheets relating to more than one building, as the numbering system related to a client rather than a structure. Envelopes occasionally contained related drawings of other architects, including original drawings of buildings renovated or added to by Milne and later work on buildings originally designed by Milne. A complete card index (Special List) of drawings and correspondence relating to the designs has been compiled. A copy of the card index is attached. Plans in drawers.

- S5/1/1-21 New Members' Grandstand for the S.A.C.A., Adelaide Oval, Milne and Evans, 1922, F57. Structural reinforced concrete design drawings are not signed by any particular engineer.
- S5/2/1-15 Marble Hill ruin, National Trust, 1879, 1939, 1968, Milne, Twopeny and Hodge, F262. A scheme for conversion of stables into tearooms is included, together with copies of 10 sheets of William McMinn's 1879 design for the house.

Magazine Cuttings and Drawings

Series 9

Special List

Various magazine cuttings and ink drawings of buildings, details, ornamentation and accessories, dated 1923-26. 1v. Partly indexed. Index listed below. Apparently compiled as an early reference work by Milne. Includes a third floor plan of the T&G Building, 1925 (p. 93) and the floor plans and elevations of an unidentified house, 1923 (pp. 94-5). This design has the words, 'Own Bedroom' written on the upper floor plan, suggesting that the scheme may have been in mind for FKM himself to build.

Quotations from various works regarding human manners and behaviour have been copied into the back pages of the volume. Oversize.

The album is an old 'Cash Book' ledger perhaps once belonging to someone else, e.g., Sir William Milne. Numerous early pages have been cut out; the quotations from speeches and poetry on the back pages are written in a fair copperplate hand, unlikely to be that of FKM. Script on p. 347 has been over-pasted by a page of The Architects' Journal, 1924.

Books

Series 30/2
Special List

This series/item consists of books donated in March 1982 to the Architecture Library of the South Australian Institute of Technology (University of South Australia) by John Twopeny Architects Pty Ltd. They were selected by S.A.I.T. from those held by John Twopeny and were part of the architectural firm's collection when the bulk of books were donated to the Flinders University Architecture Archive. While none of the books were owned by F. K. Milne, they were part of his firm's holdings while he was an active principal, as was Mr. P. V. Boehm. Mr Lindsay Dawkins was an employee.

Financial Records for F.K. Milne

Series 31

2 volumes entitled 'CASH BOOK'

Volume 1 = 26 April 1909–30 June 1925: Ledger of Receipts and Payments, annotated. Loose sheets inside front cover show share transactions negotiated by A S Fotheringham & Co., 1923-4; pencilled notes on investments; and a Memorandum of Agreement, dated 1 April 1912, between the SA Brewing Co. and FKM. It is signed by FKM and A E Nott, the General Manager of the Brewing Co.

An index lists Accounts; SA Brewing Co.; Shares; Land; Kensington Gardens Church; House Mortgage; Estate William Milne; Rates & Taxes

Until October 1916, the entries are made by FKM; from January 1916, the entries are made by accountants – at first in parallel.

Accounts cover both the architectural business and private transactions.

Volume 2 = 30 June 1925–31 December 1930: Ledger of Receipts and Payments, annotated.

Loose sheet inside front cover gives, on both sides, an investment portfolio written in pencil.

All entries are made by accountants.

Accounts cover both the architectural business and private transactions.

(A third volume partly duplicating Volume 2 may be found in Series 37.)

MILNE, F. Kenneth COLLECTION
Architecture Museum, University of South Australia

Financial Records for F.K. Milne

Series 32

Four hardback Ledgers: Volumes 1 (less than quarto size), 2, 3, 4 (all foolscap size)
V. 1 covers 1914-25, V. 2 covers 1920-5, V. 3 covers 1925-42, V. 4 covers 1942-7

Volume 1 contains a (a) Capital Account, a (b) Personal Account and a (c) Nominal Account.

These accounts are indexed, e.g.,

(a) 'Sunnyside' property, share account, Savings Bank

(b) Sundry debtors, Milne Estate, Mrs H Milne

(c) Fees & Commissions, Advertising, Rates & Taxes, and there is a General Index.

Entries are made by accountants.

Various loose sheets: receipts, statements, etc., are inserted between the pages.

Volume 2 duplicates some of the sections in Volume 1.

There is less accounting of personal investments.

There is a thin General Index but no stated separation of particular accounts.

Entries are made by accountants.

One loose sheet is inserted.

Volume 3 contains material from a 17-year period.

It is more comprehensive than Volume 2, i.e., more in the nature of Volume 1.

A General Index is relatively detailed.

Entries are made by accountants.

Loose sheets of calculations are inserted.

Volume 4 takes the coverage forward by 5 years.

There is as much material of a personal type as there is relating to the partnership.

A less-detailed General Index prefaces the entries which are made mostly by accountants but also by FKM himself.

Some loose sheets of draft lists, calculations, etc., are inserted.

Financial Records for F.K. Milne

Series 33

One hardback foolscap-sized account book titled, 'Journal', covering the years 1916-25. Chronological; no index.

It contains itemised accounts cross-referred from the Ledgers as well as half-yearly audits. These are signed by Austin & Slater, Accountants. Summaries of personal accounts and those relating to the partnership are included together with a full listing of Fees and Commissions from January 1916 to June 1921.

MILNE, F. Kenneth COLLECTION

Financial Records for F.K. Milne

Series 34

A tall, narrow account book entitled 'Cash Book, Receipts 1916-1958'.
Entirely in GKM's own hand, it covers the period 30 October 1916 – 1 May 1958.
A chronological list of the proceeds of architectural commissions is entered amongst dividends, interest payments, annuities, rent, etc.

This listing should be read in conjunction with the items in both Series 31 and Series 33.

Item No. 1

A published prospectus describing the proposed 'Hotel Adelaide', a 10-storeyed building of 220 rooms, to be built on North Terrace, Adelaide (on the site subsequently occupied by the Shell Building). Dated 8.10.1925

Milne & Evans were to have been architects in association; Sir Lancelot Stirling was to have been one of the directors.

Item No. 2

'Further Prospectus of "Hotel Adelaide" Ltd.'
Dated 14.4.1926

Series 37

A hardback, foolscap-sized ledger entitled, 'Cash Book, F Kenneth Milne & Evans'.
Entries, prepared by accountants, are begun in June 1925 and terminated in March 1931.

These accounts duplicate, in part, those of 'Cash Book, Volume 2' found in Series 31.

MILNE, F. Kenneth COLLECTION
Architecture Museum, University of South Australia

Financial Records for Milne and Evans

Series 38

One hardback, foolscap-sized volume entitled 'Ledger' in the name of F Kenneth Milne & Evans, covering the period: mid-1925 to end 1928, mainly*.

This effectively represents Volume 5 in the sequence included in Series 32.

Sparsely indexed; prepared by accountants.

Loose sheets entitled 'Ledger Balances' are interleaved.

It is noticeable that the list of 'Sundry Debtors' is far more comprehensive than the list of 'Fees & Commissions' towards the end of the 1920s.

*The 'Suspence Account' extends to the end of 1929.

MILNE, F. Kenneth COLLECTION

Financial Records for Milne and Evans

Series 39

One hardback, foolscap-sized volume entitled 'Journal' in the name of F Kenneth Milne & Evans covering the period: end 1925 to March 1931.

This set of accounts summarises transactions recorded in the Ledgers, Volumes 1 – (5).

No index; prepared by accountants.

Only 18 of the 122 pages have received entries.

Series 41

A valuation of the office furniture, fixtures and fittings at the Claridge House office of F Kenneth Milne and Evans prepared by Theodore Bruce & Co., 27.2.1929.
In a folder, on letterhead.

The purpose was to apportion the joint assets of the partnership upon its dissolution. FKM acknowledges the receipt of £62.0.10, being one-third of the total valuation. J R S Evans and C A Russell will each have been credited the same amount.

Draughting and Measuring Instruments

Series 42

Special List

- S42/1 A stout, velvet-lined leather camera case, with short strap and, inside, a small lens cap pocket. It contains a receipt, issued by Wallace Heaton Ltd, 119 New Bond Street, London, for 12gns on 3 May 1933, a return address in case of loss, and some typewritten instructions for use of the box-type camera. Also inside is part of an 8-exposure box of Kodak Verichrome film. Various suitcase stickers are adhered to the outside: KLM, Royal dutch Air Lines, Holland; Hotel Atlantic, Goteborg, Sweden; Hotel Continental, Stockholm; Bertolini's Palace Hotel, Naples, featuring a mermaid entreating, 'Venez et vous viendrez'.
- S42/2 Allegedly a late 19th-century, leather-clad Carriage Clock box, with a hinged lid and velvet-lined interior. One side, behind which is a glass window, may be slid open once the lid is raised.
- S42/3/1-6 A collection of Draughtsman's Instruments
- 1 Large Perspex 45° set square, inscribed 'VX104269, MM B R BOON' – perhaps a previous owner who had been a soldier
- 2-4 3 x 60° plastic set-squares, one marked A G Thornton, Manchester
- 5 Empty leather case for an implement – the gift of Mary Guthrie, 1933
- 6 A velvet-lined leather case containing an ink-ruling pen plus two extra nibs
- S42/4 A collection of chromed steel Draughtsman's Instruments. Two of the ruling pens have imitation ivory handles. A brass ink compass has been added. All contained in a velvet-lined case.
- S42/5 A volume, W.J. Gordon, "Warne's Discount and Commission Tables", printed by Billing and Sons of Guildford, inscribed 'F Kenneth Milne, 1914'.
On the inside cover is written: 'Architects' commissions on values below:
£100 – 10%; £200 – 9%; £300 – 8.5%; £400 – 8%; £500 – 7.5%; £600 – 6%.
Over these amounts, 6% [actually, 5% overwritten]. Travelling expenses etc., Advertising etc. are extra – F Kenneth Milne, 1914'
- S42/6 A leather-clad, velvet- and silk-lined case containing a set of drafting instruments in polished and chromed steel, some with imitation ivory handles. A hinged, inner lid may be opened to reveal where a small brass protractor is retained. This set was sold by T.F. Wiesener, Jeweller and Optician, 334-336 George Street, Sydney. The case, 15.8 by 20.2 cm, bears an engraved silver plaque: 'F Kenneth Milne/ From his "Yebrad" Chums/SYDNEY/18.3.1909"'.
A 1918, military-issue Prismatic Compass of brass and blued steel, with fitted leather case (embossed 'Jabez Cliff & Co., Walsall, 1918') and strap.
- S42/7
- S42/8 A small leather-bound notebook, with alphabetical fore-edge. Entries date from c. June 1926 and appear to relate to a fact-finding trip to N.S.W. undertaken by FKM in connection with the design of the proposed Hotel Adelaide.
- S42/9 A rolled, 66-foot measuring tape in a formed leather case, made by John Rabone and Sons, Birmingham, England. Hockley Abbey trademark. 'Rabone's Metallic Wired Tape', i.e., wire-reinforced plastic tape. The brass ballcatch capstan is marked, 'Wind this way'.
- S42/10 A small, silver-mounted smoothing roller with an ornate, Victorian-cutlery-style sterling silver handle bearing hallmarks for Birmingham, 1903
- S42/11 An 8 cm-diameter compass, in brass, with a separate, brass stub pedestal. Both components are contained in a fitted, velvet-lined box.

MILNE, F. Kenneth COLLECTION
Architecture Museum, University of South Australia

- S42/12 A small, steel-cased, sprung tape measure (6'6"), corroded

- S51 Sir William Milne, biographical notes
Notes prepared by FKM's aunt, Maud Scott, a daughter of Sir William, (written out by 'Jean') and a covering letter in Maud's hand.

“Life of Sir William Milne. Refer to article in ‘Home and Gardens’, 1947.

Born in Glasgow in 1822, he came to Australia in the same ship as Mr & Mrs John Disher & their family, when 17 yrs of age. In 1841 he married Eliza Disher the eldest of the family. Eliza, Maggie, Robert (eldest son), William, James, John & Aleck, were the John Disher's family, & all born in Scotland. Mr George Melrose, Mr John Brodie Spense Bank Manager were also on the same ship.

During the time of his arrival, he went into the pastoral areas, his name figures in a block taken up East of Terowie – 140 miles north of Adel. He was married when 19, & his wife Eliza Disher was 21, at Holy Trinity Church of England, North Terrace, the only protestant church & the 1st in Adelaide. As far as some of the family remember 2 daughters Eliza & Ellen were born in SA & after they went to Tasmania where Margaret the 3rd daughter was born. When he went to Tasmania, there was a British Regiment stationed there, & it was a convict colony, & most of the roads were made by the convicts chained together, this so worked on his wife's feelings, she got him to give it up & come back to SA. He was in the Commerissariat [Commissariat] Dept in connection with the Regt while there. They were only there about 4 years when they returned to SA.

James Disher – his wife's brother wrote to him, while in Tasmania telling him of the business of Patrick Auld for sale. It was a wine & spirit business which he had to give up on a/c of ill-health & only lived 2 or 3 yrs after selling. Mr James Disher was in partnership with William Milne for only 2 or 3 yrs, he never liked it, so gave it up & afterwards took up teaching at Woodside, & was there for many years, educating most of the Disher family & most of the Woodside & Loberthal Districts.

After W. M. returned to SA he went to live in Kermode St north of the Torrens, & while there William Milne (Jr) their eldest son was born. During their residence at Kermode St, when Margaret was between 2 & 3 yrs old, all Montifore Hill was scrub in those days, she wandered away with a shepherd boy & his sheep in the morning & her poor mother was in such a state, she had every waterhole dragged in case she'd been drowned. But she came home at evening time safe & sound with the shepherd.

Soon after this he purchased ‘Sunnyside’ from C. B. Newenham [owner of ‘Springfield’] & took his family to live there. As his family increased – the last 7 were born there – Mary who died at 19. Barbara, John, George – James (died at 6 mths teething) Florence & Maud, The family consisting of 11 children.

As his family increased, W. M. threw out the 2 main wings, & put another story to the home, & while the workmen were doing it, his wife was sure they weren't putting the foundations deep enough & spoke to her husband about it. He investigated the matter & found she was quite correct & made the men pull them all up & put deeper. When W. M. went into Parliament in 1857, he gave up his wine & spirit business.

MILNE, F. Kenneth COLLECTION
Architecture Museum, University of South Australia

Dates & births of all the 11 can be got from the Presbyterian Church in Wakefield St, Rev Mr Haining baptised them all as far as the youngest daughter can remember.

They do not know to whom he sold his business, but many years later when his 3 sons were old enough, he established Milne & Coy, Wine & Spirit Merchants, as we know it today. (At one stage he made money & was 1 of the directors for many years in the original Moonta & Wallaroo Mine & also the Burra Mines.)

William Milne (Jr) being the head & carried on until he retired, when Geo. Took over the management. John was not satisfied & wished to become a Brewer, so his Father sent him to Primrose & coy, where he was taught the business from A-Z, he then wished to start on his own, & his Father bought him a Brewery in West Maitland N.S.W, where he stayed for a few years. He was married to Lucy McGeorge when he was 21, & she 17 & had 11 children George married Nellie Swindon & had 3 children, twin sons who later carried on the business (& 1 daughter) being made partners when they were 21. John had 11 children, Lance John, George Hugh, Ken Malcolm, Mary & Edith, 2 sons & 1 daughter died in infancy.

William (Jr) married Emmie Simpson, but there were no children of the marriage. All the Milne girls married in Rotation. Barbara was married in 1879, & then the parents took Florence & Maud for a trip to India Italy, England & Scotland & were to be away 2 years, but Lady Milne (for her husband had been knighted for his work for his country) contracted bronchitis in Scotland & the Dr ordered them back to sunny SA. He was knighted when Pres. Of the Legislative Council, an office he held for 9 years, & during his Parliamentary Career held every portfolio, finishing up with Pres. of Legislative Council. At Sir W. M's death in 1895 his widow didn't require 2 big homes, so sold 'Sunnyside' & kept 'Yurilla' a house he had built near the summit of Mt Lofty between 1884-88.
