Graduation Ceremonies

This booklet exhibits the outstanding work of graduates of the University of South Australia's School of Art, Architecture and Design.

Chancellor's welcome

Today is a time for celebration, as you mark both the end and the beginning of exciting parts of your lives. It is also an occasion on which to look forward to the opportunities available to you as a graduate of the University of South Australia.

I am honoured to be able to share this special event with you, and your family and friends.

During your time with the University of South Australia you have developed a set of distinctive qualities which describe the knowledge, skills and personal abilities that you will need as you move into a constantly changing global economy.

You have acquired an international outlook; a capacity for critical thought and lifelong learning; an ability to communicate effectively and work autonomously and cooperatively; and a sense of social responsibility. You are well equipped to succeed, confident in the knowledge and skills you possess.

Congratulations and all the very best as you start the next big adventure in your lives.

Dr Ian Gould AM

Chancellor

Dr Ian Gould AM

BSc(Hons), PhD, FTSE, FAusIMM,
CompIEAust, MAICD

Dr Ian Gould has been Chancellor of the University of South Australia since July, 2008. He is a geologist with 40 years' experience in the minerals industry, including working for the CRA and Rio Tinto Group as Managing Director Australia, and for Normandy Mining Ltd as Group Managing Director.

He is highly experienced in corporate governance having served, mainly as Chair, on a range of boards including the Australian Institute of Marine Science, the CSIRO Minerals Sector Advisory Committee, the South Australian Resources Industry Development Board, the Royal Flying Doctor Service and St Andrew's Hospital (South Australia). He is also a member of the South Australian Economic Development Board.

Dr Gould was made a Member of the Order of Australia (AM) in the 2011 Queen's Birthday Honours for service to the mining industry, particularly as a proponent of environmental management, to education in his role as Chancellor of the University of South Australia, and to the community.

Vice Chancellor's welcome

Graduating with a university degree represents a major milestone in life, and I am both proud and thrilled to share the occasion with you and those who have supported and encouraged you through your academic journey – your family, your friends and your mentors.

Not only is your parchment a deserved testament to your hard work, your discipline and your commitment, it also cements an enduring connection with the University of South Australia as you take your place among our worldwide network of more than 185,000 alumni.

I hope that the achievement you celebrate today opens many doors of opportunity and helps you to realise your personal and professional ambitions, as well as to make your mark as an inspired and inspiring global citizen. Rather than a farewell, your graduation heralds a new phase in our relationship as you attain greater, brighter heights and as your university travels with you.

Whatever your chosen path and regardless of the opportunities and challenges that you encounter, we are honoured to have you as a graduate of our university and I wish you every success, happiness and prosperity for the future.

Professor David Lloyd

Vice Chancellor and President

Professor David Lloyd

BSc(Hons), PhD, CChem, FRSC

David Lloyd is the Vice Chancellor and President of the University of South Australia. A Dublin-born and educated chemist who specialises in computer-aided drug design, Professor Lloyd joined the university at the beginning of 2013, re-focusing it as a university of enterprise and shaping its activities to better meet the challenges of the 21st century.

Globally connected and engaged in helping solve the problems of industry and the professions, the university is now building partnerships that will ensure it remains at the cutting-edge of creativity and new knowledge.

In May 2014 Professor Lloyd was appointed to the South Australia Economic Development Board (EDB) to establish the networks between education, research and industry that will transition the South Australian economy into one of innovation and growth.

Before joining the University of South Australia, Professor Lloyd was Bursar and Director of Strategic Innovation at Trinity College Dublin, one of Europe's oldest and most prominent universities. He had also been Dean and Vice President of Research at Trinity and was concurrently the inaugural Chair of the Irish Research Council.

He holds a Bachelor of Science (Honours) in Applied Chemistry and a PhD in Medicinal Organic Chemistry from Dublin City University, and was also a Post-Doctoral Research Fellow at Trinity College Dublin.

Professor Lloyd has published extensively in related fields in high impact international journals while generating significant grant income. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Chemistry.

About the University of South Australia

The University of South Australia (UniSA) is a young institution with an agile, innovative approach to educating tomorrow's professionals and solving today's challenges. As a university of enterprise, its efforts are focused on providing economic and social benefits to the nation and the world.

Formed in 1991 the university has already established a global reputation for the quality and creativity of its graduates and the innovative, outcomes-focused relevance of its research.

Its global reputation continues to grow. It is Australia's youngest university to be ranked in the Times Higher Education's top 50 of world universities under 50 years old. It is also ranked in the QS Top 50 under 50. These rankings reflect the dynamism of the university and confirms its place as an industry-connected enterprising university which educates its students for global careers.

With almost 33,000 students, more than 6,000 of whom are international students, UniSA is South Australia's biggest university, and offers degree programs in business, education, arts, social sciences, health sciences, information technology, engineering and the environment. Programs are designed with strong professional emphasis and in partnership with industry, and its graduate employment rates are above the national average. The university is rated Number One in South Australia for the employment rate of our graduates; 91 per cent of those going on to full-time work are employed in a professional occupation within four months of completing their degree.

With campuses in the heart of Adelaide, in the metropolitan area (Mawson Lakes and Magill) and in the regional cities of Whyalla and Mount Gambier, the university provides opportunities to students from a wide range of geographic, socio-economic and cultural backgrounds. It is currently implementing a $1 billion-plus building program to further enhance its physical and virtual infrastructure.

The university maintains a strong commitment to teaching and learning, and ranks in the top 10 nationally for the proportion of its staff with a doctorate (73 per cent). In addition, UniSA is the highest ranked university in Australia for the international diversity of its academic staff and is ranked 7th in the world.

The University's MBA program is one of only three in Australia to have held a five-star rating for seven consecutive years (as awarded by the Graduate Management Association of Australia) and the Business School is one of only eight Australian business schools accredited by EQUIS - the EFMD Quality Improvement System.

Broad collaboration with industry, business and the community shapes its teaching and allows the university to create the highly skilled graduates needed for today's world.

The university continues to develop a strong research environment, and is home to a range of dedicated research institutes and centres and is a key partner in a number of Cooperative Research Centres that, in collaboration with industry and government, are focused on helping to deliver practical and enduring solutions to real-world problems.

Among the University of South Australia's priority areas for multidisciplinary research are health sciences, resources and energy sustainability, world-changing designs and technologies, resilient and inclusive societies and the enhanced quality and productivity of working life.

Its research capabilities include the Ian Wark Research Institute for chemical sciences and physical chemistry; the Hawke Research Institute for social sciences; the Sansom Institute for Health Research and the Ehrenberg-Bass Institute for Marketing Science.

Other key research groupings are focused on discoveries in the fundamental causes of cancer, and translating these discoveries into new ways to prevent and treat this disease.

The University of South Australia also prides itself on being an integral part of, as well as a committed contributor to, the communities and society that it serves. That commitment is reflected in its vast worldwide alumni network and in the major artistic endeavours, sporting events and public attractions the University embraces and supports.

It is a proud supporter of vital community events including the Adelaide Festival, WOMADelaide's Planet Talks and the Santos Tour Down Under UCI World Tour cycling race.

Lectures, seminars and research projects presented at the University's Hawke Centre attract national and international speakers and offer informed viewpoints on key global issues through events such as the annual Hawke Lecture, and the Nelson Mandela Lecture Series.

With its thought-provoking programs and exhibitions, the Samstag Museum of Art is one of Australia's pre-eminent contemporary art museums. It is recognised for its excellence and leadership, and its reputation is integral to the University being recognised as a leading Australian cultural institution.

Across the University, our broad range of programs is designed to increase opportunity for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, and those who have experienced educational, social or geographical disadvantage. It was the first Australian university to make a formal commitment to reconciliation and to embed this in the institution's core values. It was the first South Australian university to develop its own Reconciliation Action Plan which is a framework for cultural change and commits the university to develop better opportunities and outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

Our journey so far

The University of South Australia (UniSA) was established in 1991 but our foundations date back to the latter half of the 19th century. The forerunners of today's UniSA were the South Australian School of Art, founded in 1856, the first of several Teacher Training Colleges formed in 1876, and the School of Mines and Industries which was established in 1889. These schools were renowned for providing quality education and for responding to the needs of the nascent colony of South Australia.

1856

The School of Art was established by Charles Hill just 15 years after the proclamation of the new colony of South Australia.

1876

The Training School, the first South Australian Teachers College, was founded.

1889

The South Australian School of Mines and Industries was established.

1906

Louis Laybourne Smith established the first architectural course at the South Australian School of Mines and Industries.

1907

Adelaide Kindergarten Training College for teachers was established with strong advocacy from Lillian de Lissa.

1918

The Adelaide Technical High School was founded as a preparatory school for the courses offered by the School of Mines and Industries.

1960

The Adelaide Technical High School and the South Australian School of Mines and Industries merged to form the South Australian Institute of Technology (SAIT).

1965

The SAIT opened Whyalla campus to meet the growing demand for skills in the steel and shipping industries.

1986

Four colleges of advanced education – Salisbury, Kingston, Torrens and Murray Park – amalgamated to form part of the South Australian College of Advanced Education (SACAE).

1991

South Australian College of Advanced Education (SACAE) designated one of only eight Distance Education Centres.

The University of South Australia (UniSA) was established upon the merger of SAIT and three SACAE campuses.

John McDonald appointed first Chancellor; Professor Alan Mead the first Vice Chancellor.

UniSA became a foundation member of the Australian Technology Network (ATN) federation.

UniSA commenced teaching programs offshore, beginning with the International MBA in Singapore.

Professor Eleanor Ramsay, the first-ever Australian Pro Vice Chancellor charged with improving equity and access to education, was appointed.

The Distance Education Centre building at Underdale was opened.

1997

The City West campus was officially opened by Governor General Sir William Dean.

UniSA identified seven unique graduate qualities that described the knowledge, skills and personal abilities graduates would require in their professional careers.

UniSA became the first Australian university to develop a Statement of Commitment to Australian Reconciliation.

The Bob Hawke Prime Ministerial Centre was established.

Professor Denise Bradley was named the University's Vice Chancellor and President.

Extensively involved in national education policy groups for more than two decades, in 2008 she chaired the Expert Panel that undertook the National Review of Higher Education.

Now Emeritus Professor Denise Bradley AC, she was made a Companion of the Order of Australia, Australia's highest honour, in recognition of her service to higher education.

Professor David Robinson appointed Vice Chancellor.

The Hon Dr Basil Hetzel AC appointed Chancellor of the University of South Australia.

1994

Two of the University's key research institutes, the Ian Wark Research Institute (IWRI) and the Institute for Telecommunications Research (ITR), were officially opened.

1996

The Unaipon School was opened offering a range of programs in Aboriginal and Australian Studies.

1998

UniSA awarded an honorary doctorate to then President of South Africa, Nelson Mandela.

1999

David Klingberg AM succeeded Dr Basil Hetzel AC as Chancellor.

UniSA won the Business SA Export award for education for the first time.

The University won it again in 2000, 2001, 2004 and 2006.

2000

Nelson Mandela was announced as the new International Patron of UniSA's Bob Hawke Prime Ministerial Centre.

2002

UniSA was named the leading provider of offshore programs in Australia by IDP. The University won the award again in 2003 and 2004.

FedSat, Australia's experimental satellite developed by the CRC for Satellite Systems and including UniSA-designed payloads, was launched.

The UniSA Northern Adelaide Partnerships (UNAP) program was established to underpin economic and social development and improve education participation in severely disadvantaged communities.

2004

The University of South Australia Business School became only the second in Australia to receive European Quality Improvement System (EQUIS) accreditation, one of two major forms of international accreditation for business schools.

The University received an overwhelmingly positive report from the Australian Universities Quality Agency (AUQA) audit, including 16 commendations for good practice.

UniSA received $10 million in funding from the Australian Government to establish a Chair in Child Protection at the University.

UniSA delivered the Australian International Space University intensive professional development program, confirming South Australia's position as a centre for space education and training.

UniSA won the Institutional Award from the Australian Learning and Teaching Council for Provision of Services to the Community.

The University celebrated its 10th anniversary.

UniSA sponsored the Tour Down Under cycling race for the first time.

2003

UniSA was named an Employer of Choice for Women for the first time, and has earned that citation every year since.

2005

The first stage of the University's $100 million capital development program, Blueprint 2005, was completed and five new buildings—the Kurna Building, the Dorrit Black Building, the Garth Boomer Building, the Basil Hetzel Building and the Mawson Centre—were opened.

UniSA was placed first nationally in the 2005 round of the Australian Research Council's Linkage Grants.

The University launched four new research institutes – the Ehrenberg Bass Institute for Marketing Science, the Sansom Institute for Health Research, the Hawke Research Institute for Sustainable Society, and the Institute for Sustainable Systems and Technologies (since renamed the Barbara Hardy Institute).

The UniSA Mount Gambier Regional Centre was opened and the Centre for Regional Engagement established.

UniSA was ranked in the top 200 universities worldwide by The Times Higher Education Supplement.

Professor John Ralston was named UniSA's first Laureate Professor.

The Australian Minerals Science Research Institute (AMSRI), headquartered at UniSA's Ian Wark Research Institute, was officially opened. It was supported by the largest ARC Linkage Grant ever awarded.

The Cooperative Research Centre for Contamination Assessment and Remediation of the Environment (CRC CARE) was officially launched.

The Royal Australian Institute of Architects awarded the nation's highest accolade for a public building to UniSA's Kaurna Building.

UniSA was awarded $40 million through the Federal Government's Education Investment Fund to help build the $73 million building to house the Materials and Minerals Science Learning and Research Hub at Mawson Lakes.

UniSA's Northern Community Summit is staged, bringing together residents, business leaders, local and state government, educators and service providers to look at ways to improve social outcomes and build community through education in Adelaide's northern suburbs.

Dr Ian Gould AM, a resources industry professional, was appointed as the University's new Chancellor following the retirement of David Klingberg AM.

The UniSA College was launched to offer more opportunities for South Australians to gain access to tertiary education.

UniSA joined forces with the International Space University in Strasbourg, France, to bring world-class space education to the southern hemisphere.

UniSA secured $30 million from the Federal Government's Education Investment Fund towards the cost of a $85 million learning centre to be built in Adelaide's West End.

UniSA released a 10-year strategic plan, Horizon 2020, which heralds a billion dollar plus investment in infrastructure.

The David Unaipon College of Indigenous Education and Research (DUCIER) was opened and plays an integral role in facilitating the University's legislative commitment to Indigenous education.

Professor Peter Høj joined UniSA as Vice Chancellor and President of the University following Professor Denise Bradley's retirement.

Associate Professor Mahfuz Aziz won the Prime Minister's Award for the Australian Teacher of the Year.

UniSA public health researcher, Professor Kerin O'Dea AO, was appointed as a member of the National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC) and chaired the NHMRC's new Prevention and Community Health Committee.

UniSA joined Pedal Prix, the Human Powered Vehicle super series, as lead sponsor.

The UniSA-based Centre for Muslim and Non-Muslim Understanding was launched in India by then Minister of Education and future Prime Minister, Julia Gillard.

UniSA graduated its 100,000th student, Charlotte Mukamuberwa, a Rwandan refugee now with a Bachelor of Commerce degree.

In the 2011 QS World University rankings, the University of South Australia showed the biggest improvement of any Australian university for the second year running to be ranked 11th in Australia. It remains in the top three per cent of more than 10,000 universities worldwide.

The first national Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) assessment showed that around 70 per cent of UniSA research assessed was world-class standard or above.

In May UniSA was the first university in the world to host an online brainstorming event and ideas generator – unijam. It hosted 17,000 unique posts and more than 1300 conversation threads from across 56 countries.

Crossing the Horizon was launched – a strategic action plan designed to change the way the University operates and engages with its communities.

UniSA ranked in the world's top 50 under 50 years of age by both the QS and THE (Times Higher Education) world university rankings. The University also ranked in the Times Higher Education's global Top 100 for engineering and technology.

UniSA's MBA program is one of only three nationally to win a five-star rating for the sixth consecutive year from the Graduate Management Association's Good Universities Guide.

An alliance with SA Pathology is announced that will see UniSA support the growth of one of Australia's top cancer research centres. With a Federal Government investment of $40 million, the Centre for Cancer Biology (CCB) expansion was announced by the then Prime Minister Julia Gillard during a visit to UniSA in June.

The University was appointed lead partner of a new Cooperative Research Centre for Cell Therapy Manufacturing set to underpin significant innovations in the treatment available for diabetes, wound, and transplant patients.

The second Excellence in Research Australia (ERA) assessment rated more than 86 per cent of UniSA's research as world class or better.

EQUIS (European Quality Improvement System) accredited the University of South Australia's Business School for a further three years. The Business School is one of only eight Australian business schools (and Australia's longest-standing) accredited by EQUIS.

The new $50 million Materials and Minerals Science building at Mawson Lakes campus, is opened by the Federal Tertiary Education Minister Senator Chris Evans, showcasing one of the nation's most advanced research facilities for materials and minerals science.

Chemist, researcher and Irish university leader, Professor David Lloyd, is appointed as the University of South Australia's new Vice Chancellor and President.

The new China-Australia Centre for Sustainable Urban Design, is founded in partnership with Tianjin University.

In April the University's Jeffrey Smart Building officially opens its doors. The cornerstone of Adelaide's revitalised West End, this $85 million student learning centre has 8 floors, covers 12,480m² and provides cutting edge learning spaces and services.

UniSA partners with the M2 Academy to deliver a suite of new degree programs in Singapore at a purpose-built campus in the prestigious new Orchard Gateway development right in the heart of Singapore's CBD.

To mark the 20-year partnership between UniSA and Hong Kong Baptist University, a new suite of jointly offered full-time degrees is launched.

The University expands industry partnerships in 2014, including new alliances with Hewlett Packard, Hills Industries, Seeley, ANZ Bank, and the Port Adelaide Football Club.

UniSA allies itself with the Institute for Choice to bring global experts together in the science of human choice behaviour; and is announced as the national headquarters for an $88 million Data to Decisions CRC.

Mortarboard tassels for Indigenous Australian graduates

The University of South Australia is proud of its commitment to Australian reconciliation. To enable Indigenous Australians to have their ancestry recognised, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander graduates have the option of wearing a mortarboard with a tassel incorporating the colours of the respective flags (red, black and yellow for Aboriginal graduates and blue, green and white for Torres Strait Islander graduates).

History of academic dress

Academic dress has a long history, almost as long as that of universities themselves. It began with the foundation of the European universities in the 12th and 13th centuries. Until that time, education was carried out within the monasteries, such as one at Oxford where divinity, philosophy and arts were studied as early as the 8th century.

It was not until the 12th century that groups of teachers and students gathered together for classes outside monastery walls in a move that was recognisable as the beginnings of universities. Two of the outstanding schools at that time were in Bologna and Paris. During the 13th century the Roman legal word universitas became a common name for study groups. The third great university of the Middle Ages, Oxford, emerged at that time. Much of the symbolism of academic dress is bound up with the history of those early universities which have influenced the creation and maintenance of a distinctive form of dress.

In the earliest times, university statutes concerning academic costume were somewhat vague, and it was not until the late 14th and early 15th centuries, as lay fashions began to change, that universities began to adopt the policy of setting down particular requirements for the shape and cut of academic dress.

Over the centuries, gowns have evolved in various forms from the original outer garment or robe commonly worn by the laity and members of the clergy, to the many modern versions for the various levels of academic awards. Hoods have developed from the head coverings worn by students in the early ages. They were especially useful in inclement weather and in the draughty cloisters of monasteries.

At Canterbury, in the 13th century, the monks' hoods were lined with fur because of the cold. Windows in those days were not glazed.

It would seem that no matter how young a university is, one of the first priorities is to adopt a style of academic dress which is distinctive.

The University of South Australia is no exception. In 1991, the University acknowledged the academic dress of its predecessor institutions and then in February 1992, the University's academic dress was determined by the Council and the first graduation ceremonies wearing the new University of South Australia academic dress occurred during April 1992. It is interesting to note that the hood chosen is of Oxford Burgon style while the gown is of the Cambridge style, an interesting link with two of the greatest European universities of the Middle Ages.

Ceremony Tradition

Academic Procession and stage party

The traditional custom in which dignitaries of the university enter the graduation hall is known as the academic procession. The University of South Australia's academic procession is led by higher degree graduates and members of the University Council, followed by academic staff and senior management of the University, including the Vice Chancellor. The Chancellor is the last to enter.

Academics sit at the rear of the stage, with higher degree graduates and Council members in the second to front row. The front row is reserved for staff reading graduand names, the academic registrar, senior managers, the Vice Chancellor, guest speaker, honorary award recipients, special guests, and the Chancellor.

In some circumstances the Chancellor may be represented by the Deputy Chancellor or Pro Chancellor.

Academic Dress

Academic dress usually reflects the highest academic qualification of the wearer. Special ceremonial gowns are also worn and these represent the wearer's position and title. The Vice Chancellor can be recognised by the distinctive blue Fairford brocade gown adorned with silver oakleaf lace, and black bonnet with blue tassel. The Chancellor's gown is also blue Fairford brocade but incorporates gold oakleaf lace and notably this is worn with a black bonnet finished with a gold tassel. If you look carefully you will see that this gown also has a combination of gold stripes on each sleeve instead of the silver stripes located on the Vice Chancellor's gown.

Senior management wear a black gown with blue facing on the front and rear collar, and a black bonnet with silver tassel. The academic registrar wears a similar gown. However you will note that the blue facing is not as wide and the collar is black, and a black mortar board with blue tassel is worn. Readers wear the gown reflecting their highest award, as do Professors receiving the honorary title of Emeritus Professor, and those being awarded with the honorary title of University Fellow. Recipients of honorary Doctor of the University awards wear the prestigious blue University of South Australia honorary doctorate gown trimmed with yellow and red facing, and a red, yellow, and blue hood. A black bonnet with black tassel is the accompanying headwear.

Council members are distinguished with black silk-like gowns with red, blue, and yellow facing, and a black bonnet and gold tassel. Candidates graduating with a PhD wear a black Oxford-style gown with red facing, and those receiving professional doctorates wear the same style gown but with coloured facing representing their discipline.

End of Ceremony

The academic recession signals the end of the graduation ceremony and is led by the Chancellor, followed by the stage party in the reverse order to which it entered. Newly conferred graduates join the recession, signalling their entry to the academic community.

University of South Australia Awards

Degree types

University of South Australia students have a range of program options when undertaking their study. The following are examples of the degree titles you may hear during the graduation ceremony.

Honours degree

The Honours degree is a separate, stand-alone one-year program of advanced studies for students who demonstrate a high level of achievement upon completion of their pass degree program.

Degree with Honours

A degree with Honours is a program of four or more years in duration, which includes a minimum of one year of advanced studies, for students who demonstrate a high level of achievement in the initial years of their program.

Double degree

A double degree is a program where two contrasting and complementary programs at the same level have been combined to complement each other, such that the core elements of the two awards are undertaken simultaneously and the requirements of each award are fully met. These graduates receive two parchments.

Co-badged degrees

A collaborative arrangement between recognised providers, resulting in a single award and may include the co-badging of a single parchment.

Dual degrees

Collaborative partnerships between the University of South Australia and another recognised provider enable students to undertake a degree jointly facilitated by both institutions. Graduates of these programs will be issued with parchments from each institution.

Alumni

Alumni Network

The University of South Australia supports a thriving worldwide community of its graduates through its alumni network. Upon receiving their degrees, our graduates automatically become members of an alumni network that includes more than 185,000 of their colleagues and extends across more than 150 countries.

Keeping up to date

University of South Australia alumni are able to keep up to date with the achievements of fellow graduates and the University by receiving monthly electronic copies of UniSANEWS, Alumni Update and, periodically, Enterprise magazine. Alumni are also able to maintain their University email account for life, join University social media communities and receive notice of University events and study opportunities.

Continuing to learn

University of South Australia alumni exclusively receive special library membership for free, providing ongoing access to the University's vast learning resources and receive invitations to special public lectures and the University's high profile Knowledge Works seminars that feature leading academics and thinkers.

Advancing careers

The alumni network maintains a dedicated business directory that outlines discounted services available for fellow alumni, and the University's career services program also provides continuing advice on career development and forums to facilitate contact with employers and professional bodies.

Staying in touch

Reunion events are held in Australia and other countries each year. There are formal network chapters in Malaysia, Hong Kong, Singapore, China and the United Kingdom, as well as active groups in many other locations in Australia and overseas that hold regular events. Furthermore the University's Business School also maintains an active community and program of events.

University of South Australia alumni are also able to obtain a network card that they can use to access specially negotiated discounts to services through the Alumni Business Directory, such as events at the Adelaide Festival.

More information on the alumni network and access to its wide range of services and resources is available through the University's website at www.unisa.edu.au/alumni

Embed yourself in the DNA of the Great Hall

By building the Great Hall we are creating a new heart of the University - an iconic venue where thousands of memories will be made.

It will house graduation ceremonies in South Australia, as well as provide a venue for sports meets and alumni and corporate functions.

It has been designed by award-winning South Australian firm JPE Design Studio, in association with internationally renowned Norwegian architecture firm, Snøhetta (working on its first Australian project), as well as South Australia's own JamFactory.

Under the guidance of this design team we have selected three spaces and sculptural forms where we can etch your name and your three words to live by in key parts of the Great Hall.

Your name and three words will become a permanent fixture within a sculptural form embedded in the Chandelier, Inverted Pyramid or Swimming Pool that will be forever informing and inspiring generations of students, staff, alumni and visitors.

ADELAIDE CONVENTION CENTRE

The Occasional Address

Mr Bruce Linn

BSc(Adel), FAICD, FACS

Bruce Linn is an experienced Company Director, Chairman and former CEO who heads a successful governance and strategic management consulting business operating in Australia and the USA.

Formerly CEO of Finlaysons Lawyers, his previous executive roles include Executive Director for EDS (now HP Enterprise Services), where he was responsible for all State Government business of EDS in Australia and the region, including the award winning contract between the Government of South Australia and EDS. Prior to that he was Chief Executive Officer of Camtech Corporation Limited, one of Australia's leading internet and electronic payments companies and held general management roles with Vision Systems Limited, a leading defence and security company.

He was a member of the Council of the University of South Australia until December 2014.

A science graduate of the University of Adelaide, Mr Linn is a technologist with over 35 years experience in strategy, governance, leadership, business management and commercialisation of a broad range of technologies including IT, telecommunications, Internet and social media. This experience spans very large, medium and small organisations in a range of sectors including commerce, education and government. He has also gained extensive experience working in global markets particularly the USA, Australia and Asia.

His current areas of interest are board strategy, governance, leadership, finance, business coaching, technology transfer, social media and business models in the digital economy.

Mr Linn is a fellow of the Australian Institute of Company Directors and the Australian Computer Society. He has also been awarded Honorary Membership of the Leaders Institute of South Australia (LISA).

Order of Ceremony

Processional music will be played.

The audience is requested to stand for the entrance of the Academic Procession, Council and Official Party.

The Australian National Anthem will be sung by Ms Sharon Turley, soprano.

The Chancellor, Dr Ian Gould AM, BSc(Hons), PhD, FTSE, FAUSIMM, CompIEAust, will open the ceremony.

The Vice Chancellor and President, Professor David Lloyd BSc(Hons), PhD, CChem, FRSC, will address the ceremony.

Professor Lloyd will present the honorary award of University Fellow to Mr Bruce Linn.

The Occasional Address will be delivered by Mr Bruce Linn, Company Director.

The Chancellor, on behalf of the University, will confer awards on the candidates.

The Chancellor will close the ceremony.

The audience is requested to stand as the Official Party, Council, Academic Procession and graduates retire.

ADELAIDE CONVENTION CENTRE

The Occasional Address

Dr Anna Ciccarelli

BA, DipEd, GradDipTESOL, MEd, EdD

Dr Ciccarelli has held executive leadership roles in Australian international education, in both the Australian English Language and Higher Education sectors, over a 25 year period, in Sydney, Adelaide and Brisbane.

She was Pro Vice Chancellor and Vice President International and Development at the University of South Australia from 2004-2010, during which time she made a significant contribution to the transnational quality and internationalisation agenda of UniSA. Prior to that, she was the Director International and Division Manager: Division of Education, Arts and Social Sciences. She was the Principal of an English Language college in Sydney in the 1990s.

From 2010 to 2014 Dr Ciccarelli was Deputy Vice-Chancellor and Vice-President (International) at The University of Queensland (UQ). During her time at UQ, she supported broad and deep global research and education engagement, including the establishment of a joint venture in Chile with the Universidad Catolica del Norte, of an English Language Institute delivering English language training for professionals; opening a UQ office in Washington DC to support UQ's advancement agenda in North America, and establishing an office in Jakarta as UQ's base in Asia. As Chair of the UQ Confucius Institute, she positioned the Institute to contribute significantly to UQ's China engagement.

Dr Ciccarelli is the 2014 recipient of the International Education Association of Australia (IEAA) Excellence in Leadership in International Education award.

The award recognises her contribution to the international education sectors in Australia and her work as the IEAA inaugural Vice President in the establishment of the association, as well as her mentoring of young leaders in the field.

Dr Ciccarelli has co-authored a number of publications in her field of expertise. She continues her international education and higher education interests through a range of advisory projects.

Order of Ceremony

Processional music will be played.

The audience is requested to stand for the entrance of the Academic Procession, Council and Official Party.

The Australian National Anthem will be sung by Ms Sharon Turley, soprano.

The Deputy Chancellor, Dr Wendy Craik AM, BSc(Hons), PhD, GradDipMgmt, DUniv, FAICD, FTSE, will open the ceremony.

The Vice Chancellor and President, Professor David Lloyd BSc(Hons), PhD, CChem, FRSC, will address the ceremony.

Professor Lloyd will present the honorary award of University Fellow to Dr Anna Ciccarelli.

Professor Denise Meredyth BA(Hons), GradDipEd, PhD, Pro Vice Chancellor: Education, Arts and Social Sciences, will present the honorary title of Emeritus Professor to Professor Barbara Pocock AM BEc(Hons), PhD, FASSA.

The Occasional Address will be delivered by Dr Anna Cicarrelli, International Education Consultant.

The Deputy Chancellor, on behalf of the University, will confer awards on the candidates.

The Deputy Chancellor will close the ceremony.

The audience is requested to stand as the Official Party, Council, Academic Procession and graduates retire.

ADELAIDE CONVENTION CENTRE

The Occasional Address

Professor Robyn Williams AM

BSc (Hons)

Professor Williams is a science journalist and broadcaster who presents The Science Show and Ockham's Razor on Radio National.

Although he graduated with a Bachelor of Science (honours) in England, he admits to spending as much time acting as studying. Early in his career he made guest appearances in The Goodies, Monty Python's Flying Circus and Doctor Who, and stood in for Tom Jones for four months in his TV series.

He has conducted countless interviews with scientists on ABC TV on programs such as Quantum and Catalyst, narrated the Nature of Australia series and appeared in World Safari with David Attenborough.

Outside the ABC, Professor Williams has served in various capacities, including president of the Australian Museum Trust, chairman of the Commission for the Future, and president of the Australian Science Communicators. In 1987, he was proclaimed a National Living Treasure.

In 1993, he was the first journalist elected as a Fellow Member of the Australian Academy of Science. He was appointed AM in the 1988 Australian Bicentenary honours list and in the same year received honorary doctorates in science from the Universities of Sydney, Macquarie and Deakin. The ANU awarded him a doctorate of law, and he is a visiting professor at the University of NSW and an adjunct professor at the University of Queensland.

A Reuters fellowship at Oxford University allowed him time to write his autobiography, And Now for Something Completely Different. He was a visiting fellow at Balliol College Oxford in 1995-96.

Professor Williams has written more than 10 books, the latest being a novel, 2007: a true story waiting to happen.

Order of Ceremony

Processional music will be played.

The audience is requested to stand for the entrance of His Excellency The Honourable Hieu Van Le AO, Governor of South Australia, the Academic Procession, Council and Official Party.

The Vice Chancellor and President, Professor David Lloyd BSc(Hons), PhD, CChem, FRSC, will address the ceremony.

Professor Marie Wilson JD, PhD, Pro Vice Chancellor (Business and Law): UniSA Business School, will present Professor Robyn Williams AM for the honorary degree of Doctor of the University.

The Occasional Address will be delivered by Professor Robyn Williams AM, Presenter of The Science Show.

The Chancellor, on behalf of the University, will confer awards on the candidates.

The Chancellor will close the ceremony.

The audience is requested to stand as the Official Party, Council, Academic Procession and graduates retire.

ADELAIDE CONVENTION CENTRE

The Occasional Address

Mr Rob Chapman

FAICD, F FIN

Rob Chapman is a company director. He is Chair of the Adelaide Football Club, the Adelaide Airport, Barossa Infrastructure, Fortis Ago Corporate Advisory, The Engine Room and Perks Integrated Business Services. He is Deputy Chair of the South Australian Economic Development Board, the South Australian Economic Development Cabinet Committee and a director of TAFE.

Born and educated in Adelaide, he spent his early career in the insurance and funds management industry. Promotions saw him move to the eastern states before returning to Adelaide and taking up an executive role in banking.

Prior to his current appointments, he was Chief Executive Officer of the St George Banking Group, Managing Director of BankSA and held senior executive positions with CBA, Colonial Group and Prudential Corporation.

Mr Chapman has been recognised for his consistent pursuit of excellence and outstanding contribution to South Australia with the 2005 SA Great Award for Business. He was recently tasked with leading the State Government's $15 million investment fund aimed at bringing new jobs to South Australia.

Order of Ceremony

Processional music will be played.

The audience is requested to stand for the entrance of the Academic Procession, Council and Official Party.

The Australian National Anthem will be sung by Ms Sharon Turley, soprano.

The Deputy Chancellor, Dr Wendy Craik AM, BSc(Hons), PhD, GradDipMgmt, DUniv, FAICD, FTSE, will open the ceremony.

The Vice Chancellor and President, Professor David Lloyd BSc(Hons), PhD, CChem, FRSC, will address the ceremony.

The Occasional Address will be delivered by Mr Rob Chapman, Company Director.

The Deputy Chancellor, on behalf of the University, will confer awards on the candidates.

The Deputy Chancellor will close the ceremony.

The audience is requested to stand as the Official Party, Council, Academic Procession and graduates retire.
