Chancellor's welcome

Today is a time for celebration as you mark both the end and the beginning of exciting parts of your lives. It is also an occasion on which to look forward to the opportunities available to you as a graduate of the University of South Australia.

I am honoured to be able to share this special event with you, and your family and friends.

During your time with the University of South Australia you have developed a set of distinctive qualities which describe the knowledge, skills and personal abilities that you will need as you move into a constantly changing global economy.

You have acquired an international outlook; a capacity for critical thought and lifelong learning; an ability to communicate effectively and work autonomously and cooperatively; and a sense of social responsibility. You are well equipped to succeed, confident in the knowledge and skills you possess.

Congratulations and all the very best as you start the next big adventure in your lives.

Mr Jim McDowell

Chancellor

Mr Jim McDowell

LLB (Honours)

Mr Jim McDowell is currently Chair of the Australian Nuclear Science and Technology Organisation and non-executive director of a number of private and listed companies. He advises the Federal Government in a number of areas of Defence and Defence Procurement. He is a member of the First Principles Review of the Department of Defence and is currently on the Expert Advisory Panel for the Future Submarine Program.

Prior to this he spent 35 years in the aerospace, shipbuilding and defence industries, most recently as Chief Executive Officer of BAE Systems Saudi Arabia (a $6 billion business) and for almost 11 years prior to that as CEO of BAE Systems Australia, the nation's largest defence contractor. He has lived and worked in the UK, the USA, Korea, Singapore, Hong Kong, Australia and Saudi Arabia.

Vice Chancellor's welcome

Graduating with a university degree represents a major milestone in life. Now you're about to enter a whole new world of wonderful opportunities. You will leave us today with a parchment and a career path and we couldn't be prouder of you.

I am very pleased to share the excitement of this day with you and with the people who have supported you throughout your studies: your family, your friends and your mentors.

Yours is an important ceremony in this our 25th year and we are celebrating your success along with our own. We have come a long way since 1991 when we amalgamated colleges of advanced education and institutes of technology to become the University of South Australia. Now we're considered one of the world's best young universities, an enterprising institution putting our best teaching and research into creating bright futures for our students and partnering with industry and the professions to bring the benefits of that teaching and research to our community.

I hope the achievement you celebrate today opens many doors of opportunities for you so that you can make your mark as a global citizen, a professional in everything you do.

You, like more than 195,000 graduates who have preceded you, are very important to us; you are our success stories, the role models for current students and those who might follow in your footsteps. As your career grows and your success is assured, current students look at you and see what's possible in their own lives.

I wish you every success, happiness and prosperity as you take your first steps into your new lives as graduates of the University of South Australia.

Professor David Lloyd

Vice Chancellor and President

Professor David Lloyd

BSc(Hons), PhD, CChem, FRSC

David Lloyd is the Vice Chancellor and President of the University of South Australia. A Dublin-born and educated chemist who specialises in computer-aided drug design, Professor Lloyd joined the university at the beginning of 2013, re-focusing it as a university of enterprise and shaping its activities to better meet the challenges of the 21st century.

Globally connected and engaged in helping solve the problems of industry and the professions, the University is now building partnerships that will ensure it remains at the cutting-edge of creativity and new knowledge.

In May 2014 Professor Lloyd was appointed to the South Australia Economic Development Board (EDB) to establish the networks between education, research and industry that will transition the South Australian economy into one of innovation and growth.

Before joining the University of South Australia, Professor Lloyd was Bursar and Director of Strategic Innovation at Trinity College Dublin, one of Europe's oldest and most prominent universities. He had also been Dean and Vice President of Research at Trinity and was concurrently the inaugural Chair of the Irish Research Council.

He holds a Bachelor of Science (Honours) in Applied Chemistry and a PhD in Medicinal Organic Chemistry from Dublin City University, and was also a Post-Doctoral Research Fellow at Trinity College Dublin.

Professor Lloyd has published extensively in related fields in high impact international journals while generating significant grant income. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Chemistry.

About the University of South Australia

The University of South Australia (UniSA) is a young institution with an agile, innovative approach to educating tomorrow's professionals and solving today's challenges. As a University of Enterprise, its efforts are focused on providing economic and social benefits to the nation and the world.

Formed in 1991, the University has already established a global reputation for the quality and creativity of its graduates and the innovative, outcomes-focused relevance of its research.

Its global reputation continues to grow. It is ranked in the world's top 50 universities under 50 years old by both THE (Times Higher Education) (#35) and QS (Quacarelli Symonds) (#25) world university rankings. THE also ranked the University of South Australia amongst the world's best young international universities.

The University maintains a strong commitment to teaching and learning, and ranks in the top 10 nationally for the proportion of its staff with a doctorate (73 per cent). Its MBA program consistently ranks amongst the best in the country, holding a five-star rating for eight consecutive years (as awarded by the Graduate Management Association of Australia).

With almost 33,000 students, more than 6,000 of whom are international students, UniSA offers degree programs in business, education, arts, social sciences, health sciences, information technology, engineering and the environment that are designed with strong professional emphasis and in partnership with industry. Its graduate employment rates are above the national average. The University is rated Number One in South Australia for the employment rate of its graduates; 91 per cent of those going on to full-time work are employed in a professional occupation within four months of completing their degree.

The University continues to develop a strong research environment, and is home to a range of dedicated research institutes and centres and is a key partner in a number of Cooperative Research Centres that, in collaboration with industry and government, are focused on helping to deliver practical and enduring solutions to real-world problems.

Among the University of South Australia's priority areas for multidisciplinary research are health sciences, resources and energy sustainability, world-changing designs and technologies, resilient and inclusive societies and the enhanced quality and productivity of working life.

Its research capabilities include the new multi-million dollar Future Industries Institute (FII) which focuses on building knowledge and capacity in core future industries; the Hawke Research Institute, Australia's largest social science and humanities institute, the Sansom Institute for Health Research, the University's premier health and biomedical research concentration and the Ehrenberg-Bass Institute for Marketing Science, one of the world's leading centres for research in marketing.

The Training School

Other key research groupings are focused on discoveries in the fundamental causes of cancer, and translating these discoveries into new ways to prevent and treat this disease.

With campuses in the heart of Adelaide, in the metropolitan area (Mawson Lakes and Magill) and in the regional cities of Whyalla and Mount Gambier, the University provides opportunities to students from a wide range of geographic, socio-economic and cultural backgrounds. It is currently implementing a $1 billion-plus building program to further enhance its physical and virtual infrastructure.

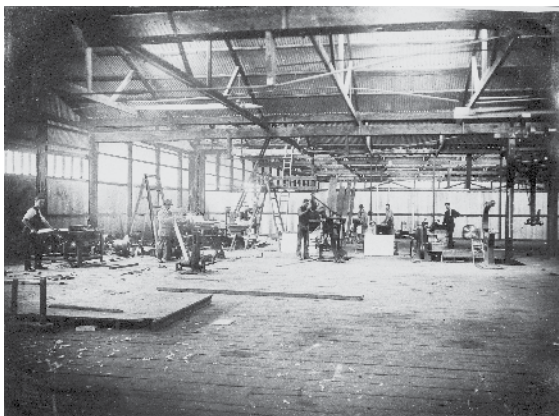

Across the University, its broad range of programs is designed to increase opportunity for Aboriginal people, and those who have experienced educational, social or geographical disadvantage. It was the first Australian university to make a formal commitment to reconciliation and to embed this in the institution's core values. It was the first South Australian university to develop its own Reconciliation Action Plan which is a framework for cultural change and commits the University to develop better opportunities and outcomes for Aboriginal people.

The University of South Australia also prides itself on being an integral part of, as well as a committed contributor to, the communities and society that it serves. That commitment is reflected in its vast worldwide alumni network and in the major artistic endeavours, sporting events and public attractions the University embraces and supports.

Lectures, seminars and research projects presented at the University's Hawke Centre attract national and international speakers and offer informed viewpoints on key global issues through events such as the annual Hawke Lecture, and the Nelson Mandela Lecture Series.

With its thought-provoking programs and exhibitions, the Samstag Museum of Art is one of Australia's pre-eminent contemporary art museums. It is recognised for its excellence and leadership, and its reputation is integral to the University being recognised as a leading Australian cultural institution.

The University is also a proud supporter of vital community events including the Adelaide Festival, WOMADelaide's Planet Talks and the Santos Tour Down Under UCI World Tour cycling race.

Our journey so far

The University of South Australia (UniSA) was established in 1991 but our foundations date back to the latter half of the 19th century. The forerunners of today's UniSA were the South Australian School of Art, founded in 1856, the first of several Teacher Training Colleges formed in 1876, and the School of Mines and Industries which was established in 1889. These schools were renowned for providing quality education and for responding to the needs of the nascent colony of South Australia.

1856

The School of Art was established by Charles Hill just 15 years after the proclamation of the new colony of South Australia.

1876

The Training School, the first South Australian Teachers College, was founded.

1889

The South Australian School of Mines and Industries was established.

1906

Louis Laybourne Smith established the first architectural course at the South Australian School of Mines and Industries.

1907

Adelaide Kindergarten Training College for teachers was established with strong advocacy from Lillian de Lissa.

1918

The Adelaide Technical High School was founded as a preparatory school for the courses offered by the School of Mines and Industries.

1960

The Adelaide Technical High School and the South Australian School of Mines and Industries merged to form the South Australian Institute of Technology (SAIT).

1965

The SAIT opened Whyalla campus to meet the growing demand for skills in the steel and shipping industries.

1986

Four colleges of advanced education – Salisbury, Kingston, Torrens and Murray Park – amalgamated to form part of the South Australian College of Advanced Education (SACAE).

1991

South Australian College of Advanced Education (SACAE) designated one of only eight Distance Education Centres.

The University of South Australia (UniSA) was established upon the merger of SAIT and three SACAE campuses.

John McDonald appointed first Chancellor; Professor Alan Mead the first Vice Chancellor.

1993

UniSA became a foundation member of the Australian Technology Network (ATN) federation.

UniSA commenced teaching programs offshore, beginning with the International MBA in Singapore.

Professor Eleanor Ramsay, the first-ever Australian Pro Vice Chancellor charged with improving equity and access to education, was appointed.

The Distance Education Centre building at Underdale was opened.

1997

The City West campus was officially opened by Governor General Sir William Dean.

UniSA identified seven unique graduate qualities that described the knowledge, skills and personal abilities graduates would require in their professional careers.

UniSA became the first Australian university to develop a Statement of Commitment to Australian Reconciliation.

The Bob Hawke Prime Ministerial Centre was established.

Professor Denise Bradley was named the University's Vice Chancellor and President.

Extensively involved in national education policy groups for more than two decades, in 2008 she chaired the Expert Panel that undertook the National Review of Higher Education.

Now Emeritus Professor Denise Bradley AC, she was made a Companion of the Order of Australia, Australia's highest honour, in recognition of her service to higher education.

1992

Professor David Robinson appointed Vice Chancellor.

The Hon Dr Basil Hetzel AC appointed Chancellor of the University of South Australia.

1994

Two of the University's key research institutes, the Ian Wark Research Institute (IWRI) and the Institute for Telecommunications Research (ITR), were officially opened.

1996

The Unaipon School was opened offering a range of programs in Aboriginal and Australian Studies.

1998

UniSA awarded an honorary doctorate to then President of South Africa, Nelson Mandela.

1999

David Klingberg AM succeeded Dr Basil Hetzel AC as Chancellor.

UniSA won the Business SA Export award for education for the first time.

The University won it again in 2000, 2001, 2004 and 2006.

2000

Nelson Mandela was announced as the new International Patron of UniSA's Bob Hawke Prime Ministerial Centre.

2002

UniSA was named the leading provider of offshore programs in Australia by IDP. The University won the award again in 2003 and 2004.

FedSat, Australia's experimental satellite developed by the CRC for Satellite Systems and including UniSA-designed payloads, was launched.

The UniSA Northern Adelaide Partnerships (UNAP) program was established to underpin economic and social development and improve education participation in severely disadvantaged communities.

2004

The University of South Australia Business School became only the second in Australia to receive European Quality Improvement System (EQUIS) accreditation, one of two major forms of international accreditation for business schools.

The University received an overwhelmingly positive report from the Australian Universities Quality Agency (AUQA) audit, including 16 commendations for good practice.

UniSA received $10 million in funding from the Australian Government to establish a Chair in Child Protection at the University.

UniSA delivered the Australian International Space University intensive professional development program, confirming South Australia's position as a centre for space education and training.

UniSA won the Institutional Award from the Australian Learning and Teaching Council for Provision of Services to the Community.

2001

The University celebrated its 10th anniversary.

UniSA sponsored the Tour Down Under cycling race for the first time.

2003

UniSA was named an Employer of Choice for Women for the first time.

2005

The first stage of the University's $100 million capital development program, Blueprint 2005, was completed and five new buildings—the Kaurna Building, the Dorrit Black Building, the Garth Boomer Building, the Basil Hetzel Building and the Mawson Centre—were opened.

The University launched four new research institutes – the Ehrenberg Bass Institute for Marketing Science, the Sansom Institute for Health Research, the Hawke Research Institute for Sustainable Society, and the Institute for Sustainable Systems and Technologies (since renamed the Barbara Hardy Institute).

The UniSA Mount Gambier Regional Centre was opened and the Centre for Regional Engagement established.

UniSA was ranked in the top 200 universities worldwide by The Times Higher Education Supplement.

2006

Professor John Ralston was named UniSA's first Laureate Professor.

The Australian Minerals Science Research Institute (AMSRI), headquartered at UniSA's Ian Wark Research Institute, was officially opened. It was supported by the largest ARC Linkage Grant ever awarded.

The Cooperative Research Centre for Contamination Assessment and Remediation of the Environment (CRC CARE) was officially launched.

The Royal Australian Institute of Architects awarded the nation's highest accolade for a public building to UniSA's Karna Building.

2008

UniSA was awarded $40 million through the Federal Government's Education Investment Fund to help build the $73 million building to house the Materials and Minerals Science Learning and Research Hub at Mawson Lakes.

Dr Ian Gould AM, a resources industry professional, was appointed as the University's new Chancellor following the retirement of David Klingberg AM.

2010

The UniSA College was launched to offer more opportunities for South Australians to gain access to tertiary education.

UniSA joined forces with the International Space University in Strasbourg, France, to bring world-class space education to the southern hemisphere.

UniSA secured $30 million from the Federal Government's Education Investment Fund towards the cost of a $85 million learning centre to be built in Adelaide's West End.

2011

In the 2011 QS World University rankings, the University of South Australia showed the biggest improvement of any Australian university for the second year running to be ranked 11th in Australia. It remains in the top three per cent of more than 10,000 universities worldwide.

The first national Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) assessment showed that around 70 per cent of UniSA research assessed was world-class standard or above.

2007

Professor Peter Høj joined UniSA as Vice Chancellor and President of the University following Professor Denise Bradley's retirement.

2009

Associate Professor Mahfuz Aziz won the Prime Minister's Award for the Australian Teacher of the Year.

UniSA public health researcher, Professor Kerin O'Dea AO, was appointed as a member of the National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC) and chaired the NHMRC's new Prevention and Community Health Committee.

UniSA joined Pedal Prix, the Human Powered Vehicle super series, as lead sponsor.

The UniSA-based Centre for Muslim and Non-Muslim Understanding was launched in India by then Minister of Education and future Prime Minister, Julia Gillard.

UniSA graduated its 100,000th student, Charlotte Mukamuberwa, a Rwandan refugee now with a Bachelor of Commerce degree.

2012

The second Excellence in Research Australia (ERA) assessment rated more than 86 per cent of UniSA's research as world class or better.

EQUIS (European Quality Improvement System) accredited the University of South Australia's Business School for a further three years. The Business School is one of only eight Australian business schools (and Australia's longest-standing) accredited by EQUIS.

Chemist, researcher and Irish university leader, Professor David Lloyd, is appointed as the University of South Australia's new Vice Chancellor and President.

The new China-Australia Centre for Sustainable Urban Design, is founded in partnership with Tianjin University.

2014

In April the University's Jeffrey Smart Building officially opens its doors. The cornerstone of Adelaide's revitalised West End, this $85 million student learning centre has 8 floors, covers 12,480m<sup>2</sup> and provides cutting edge learning spaces and services.

To mark the 20-year partnership between UniSA and Hong Kong Baptist University, a new suite of jointly offered full-time degrees is launched.

The University expands industry partnerships in 2014, including new alliances with Hewlett Packard, Hills Industries, Seeley, ANZ Bank, and the Port Adelaide Football Club.

UniSA allies itself with the Institute for Choice to bring global experts together in the science of human choice behaviour; and is announced as the national headquarters for an $88 million Data to Decisions CRC.

2013

In May UniSA was the first university in the world to host an online brainstorming event and ideas generator – unijam. It hosted 17,000 unique posts and more than 1300 conversation threads from across 56 countries.

Crossing the Horizon was launched – a strategic action plan designed to change the way the University operates and engages with its communities.

UniSA ranked in the world's top 50 under 50 years of age by both the QS and THE world university rankings. The University also ranked in the THE's global Top 100 for engineering and technology.

UniSA's MBA program is one of only three nationally to win a five-star rating for the sixth consecutive year from the Graduate Management Association's Good Universities Guide.

An alliance with SA Pathology is announced that will see UniSA support the growth of one of Australia's top cancer research centres. With a Federal Government investment of $40 million, the Centre for Cancer Biology (CCB) expansion was announced by the then Prime Minister Julia Gillard during a visit to UniSA in June.

The University was appointed lead partner of a new Cooperative Research Centre for Cell Therapy Manufacturing set to underpin significant innovations in the treatment available for diabetes, wound, and transplant patients.

2015

UniSA was ranked as one of the world's best young universities (THE ranks us #38 on their list of the world's best 50 under 50; Quacarelli Symonds moves us up to #25). We had some stunning research results as well: Excellence in Research Australia rated 97 per cent of our assessed research as world class or above.

UniSA was also ranked as one of the world's best international universities. We entered into a significant relationship with the University College London to establish our Future Industries Institute and became the recipient of an incredibly generous contribution from the late, great, Sir Terry Pratchett, a perpetual scholarship fund worth more than $1 million.

UniSA also opened the Innovation Collaboration Centre at City West in partnership with Hewlett Packard Enterprise and forged a partnership with one of China's largest drug manufacturers Yabao Pharmaceuticals to develop and bring to market new cancer treatments.

2016

Jim McDowell, former BAE Systems Saudi Arabia CEO and a passionate supporter of continuing education, succeeded Dr Ian Gould AM as the University's Chancellor.

The University of South Australia has launched the careers of thousands of teachers, nurses, engineers and health professionals; attracted more international students to South Australia than any other university; invested almost one billion dollars in capital works and changed the face and the heart of education in South Australia. And it has only taken the University 25 years. 2016 marks 25 years since the South Australian Institute of Technology merged with three South Australian Colleges of Advanced Education. The celebrations have only just begun.

History of academic dress

Academic dress has a long history, almost as long as that of universities themselves. It began with the foundation of the European universities in the 12th and 13th centuries. Until that time, education was carried out within the monasteries, such as one at Oxford where divinity, philosophy and arts were studied as early as the 8th century.

It was not until the 12th century that groups of teachers and students gathered together for classes outside monastery walls in a move that was recognisable as the beginnings of universities. Two of the outstanding schools at that time were in Bologna and Paris. During the 13th century the Roman legal word universitas became a common name for study groups. The third great university of the Middle Ages, Oxford, emerged at that time. Much of the symbolism of academic dress is bound up with the history of those early universities which have influenced the creation and maintenance of a distinctive form of dress.

In the earliest times, university statutes concerning academic costume were somewhat vague, and it was not until the late 14th and early 15th centuries, as lay fashions began to change, that universities began to adopt the policy of setting down particular requirements for the shape and cut of academic dress.

Over the centuries, gowns have evolved in various forms from the original outer garment or robe commonly worn by the laity and members of the clergy, to the many modern versions for the various levels of academic awards. Hoods have developed from the head coverings worn by students in the early ages. They were especially useful in inclement weather and in the draughty cloisters of monasteries.

At Canterbury, in the 13th century, the monks' hoods were lined with fur because of the cold. Windows in those days were not glazed.

It would seem that no matter how young a university is, one of the first priorities is to adopt a style of academic dress which is distinctive.

The University of South Australia is no exception. In 1991, the University acknowledged the academic dress of its predecessor institutions and then in February 1992, the University's academic dress was determined by the Council and the first graduation ceremonies wearing the new University of South Australia academic dress occurred during April 1992. It is interesting to note that the hood chosen is of Oxford Burgon style while the gown is of the Cambridge style, an interesting link with two of the greatest European universities of the Middle Ages.

Ceremony Tradition

Academic Procession and stage party

The traditional custom in which dignitaries of the university enter the graduation hall is known as the academic procession. The University of South Australia's academic procession is led by higher degree graduates and members of the University Council, followed by academic staff and senior management of the University, including the Vice Chancellor. The Chancellor is the last to enter.

Academics sit at the rear of the stage, with higher degree graduates and Council members in the second to front row. The front row is reserved for staff reading graduand names, the academic registrar, senior managers, the Vice Chancellor, guest speaker, honorary award recipients, special guests, and the Chancellor.

In some circumstances the Chancellor may be represented by the Deputy Chancellor or Pro Chancellor.

Academic Dress

Academic dress usually reflects the highest academic qualification of the wearer. Special ceremonial gowns are also worn and these represent the wearer's position and title. The Vice Chancellor can be recognised by the distinctive blue gown adorned with silver oakleaf lace, and black bonnet with blue tassel. The Chancellor's gown is also blue but incorporates gold oakleaf lace and notably this is worn with a black bonnet finished with a gold tassel. If you look carefully you will see that this gown also has a combination of gold stripes on each sleeve instead of the silver stripes located on the Vice Chancellor's gown.

Senior management wear a black gown with blue facing on the front and rear collar, and a black bonnet with silver tassel. The academic registrar wears a similar gown. However you will note that the blue facing is not as wide and the collar is black, and a black mortar board with blue tassel is worn. Readers wear the gown reflecting their highest award, as do Professors receiving the honorary title of Emeritus Professor, and those being awarded with the honorary title of University Fellow. Recipients of honorary Doctor of the University awards wear the prestigious blue University of South Australia honorary doctorate gown trimmed with yellow and red facing, and a red, yellow, and blue hood. A black bonnet with black tassel is the accompanying headwear.

Council members are distinguished with black silk-like gowns with red, blue, and yellow facing, and a black bonnet and gold tassel. Candidates graduating with a PhD wear a black Oxford-style gown with red facing, and those receiving professional doctorates wear the same style gown but with coloured facing representing their discipline.

End of Ceremony

The academic recession signals the end of the graduation ceremony and is led by the Chancellor, followed by the stage party in the reverse order to which it entered.

University of South Australia Awards

Degree types

University of South Australia students have a range of program options when undertaking their study. The following are examples of the degree titles you may hear during the graduation ceremony.

Doctor of Philosophy

Doctor of Philosophy programs provide training and education with the objective of producing graduates with the capacity to conduct research independently at a high level of originality and quality.

Professional Doctorate

A Professional Doctorate is a rigorous program of advanced study and research, designed specifically to meet the needs of industry and professional groups. Professional Doctorates usually consist of a blend of coursework and research.

Honours degree

The Honours degree is a separate, stand-alone one-year program of advanced studies for students who demonstrate a high level of achievement upon completion of their pass degree program.

Degree with Honours

A degree with Honours is a program of four or more years in duration, which includes a minimum of one year of advanced studies, for students who demonstrate a high level of achievement in the initial years of their program.

Double degree

A double degree is a program where two contrasting and complementary programs at the same level have been combined to complement each other, such that the core elements of the two awards are undertaken simultaneously and the requirements of each award are fully met. These graduates receive two parchments.

Co-badged degrees

A collaborative arrangement between recognised providers, resulting in a single award and may include the co-badging of a single parchment.

Dual degrees

Collaborative partnerships between the University of South Australia and another recognised provider enable students to undertake a degree jointly facilitated by both institutions. Graduates of these programs will be issued with parchments from each institution.

Alumni

Alumni Network

The University of South Australia supports a thriving worldwide community of its graduates through its alumni network. Upon receiving their degrees, our graduates automatically become members of an alumni network that includes more than 195,000 of their colleagues and extends across more than 150 countries.

Keeping up to date

University of South Australia alumni are able to keep up to date with the achievements of fellow graduates and the University by receiving monthly electronic copies of UniSANEWS, Alumni Update and, periodically, Enterprise magazine. Alumni are also able to maintain their University email account for life, join and follow alumni social media platforms, and reconnect with and mentor fellow alumni in the new online community - UniSA Global Alumni Connect. The University Alumni Dashboard on the UniSA App will be available soon.

Continuing to learn

University of South Australia alumni exclusively receive special library membership for free, providing ongoing access to the University's vast learning resources and receive invitations to special public lectures and the University's International Seminar Series that feature leading academics and thinkers.

Advancing careers

The alumni network maintains a dedicated business directory that outlines discounted services available for fellow alumni, and the University's career services program also provides continuing advice on career development and forums to facilitate contact with employers and professional bodies.

Staying in touch

Reunion events are held in Australia and other countries each year. There are formal network chapters in Malaysia, Hong Kong, Singapore, China and the United Kingdom, as well as active groups in many other locations in Australia and overseas that hold regular events. Furthermore the UniSA Business School also maintains an active community and program of events.

University of South Australia alumni are also able to obtain a network card they can use to access specially negotiated discounts to services through the Alumni Business Directory, such as events at the Adelaide Festival.

More information on the alumni network and access to its wide range of services and resources is available at www.unisa.edu.au/alumni

In Honour of Graduation

Embed yourself in the DNA of the Great Hall

By building the Great Hall we are creating a new heart of the University - an iconic venue where thousands of memories will be made.

The Great Hall will house graduation ceremonies as well as provide a venue for sports meets and alumni and corporate functions.

A 25-metre, five-lane, heated swimming pool will be situated one level below the main hall and will be built alongside a fully-equipped gym and an exercise room for yoga and dance classes.

You can leave your mark on UniSA. We are inviting you to make a donation of $1,000 to embed yourself in the DNA of the Great Hall in one of the permanent sculptural features of the facility.

Under the guidance of the design teams we have selected three spaces and sculptural forms where we can etch your name and your three words to live by – the Chandelier, the Inverted Pyramid and the Swimming Pool. Your name and three words will become a permanent fixture that will forever inform and inspire future generations of students.

You can join hundreds of other graduates who have already made the commitment. To read some of their stories or to participate in this unique initiative, please visit www.unisa.edu.au/greathall

25th Birthday Scholarship Fund

To celebrate our 25th Birthday this year, we have created a 25th Birthday Scholarship Fund to provide scholarships, grants and prizes to as many students as we can to inspire greatness and to give them the ability and motivation to keep going.

UniSA has more students from a disadvantaged background than any other university in South Australia, and there are many students at UniSA for whom money is a real issue. Many have multiple jobs to support themselves, some come from remote rural areas, and more than 25 per cent have little financial support at home - which puts them at risk of not completing their degrees and foregoing their dream.

As well as disadvantaged students, the 25th Birthday Scholarship Fund will help support students with high academic potential in the priority areas of Equity; Excellence; Indigenous; International; and Women in Science, Technology, Engineering and Maths.

The fund will support students tackling the problems of the world as they progress through masters and PhD studies, as well as students just starting out in their undergraduate studies who are finding their purpose and inspiration.

By making a donation to the 25th Birthday Scholarship Fund you can help future students. It is a wonderful way of giving back and acknowledging what you have accomplished. To give someone else a boost please visit

The Occasional Address

Professor Marie Wilson

JD PhD

Professor Marie Wilson is Pro Vice Chancellor (Business and Law) of the University of South Australia Business School. Since gaining her initial degree in Science at Florida State University, Professor Wilson has studied and worked across the globe and has been a senior manager in strategy and Human Resource Management for seven public companies, including one of the world's largest IT firms. Professor Wilson's specialities include the management of performance (with a focus on professionals and knowledge work), decision-making and the human side of entrepreneurship and economic development. She has published and lectured extensively in these areas.

Under Professor Wilson's leadership the UniSA Business School's MBA has been awarded a Graduate Management Association of Australia (GMAA) five-star rating for the 8th year running, awarded a five-star rating in QS (Quacquarelli Symonds) Rankings, gained continuation of the highly prestigious EQUIS accreditation (which looks for a balance between high academic quality and professional relevance) and launched both the new Centre for Business Growth in partnership with ANZ, and the new Institute for Choice.

Professor Wilson holds a Juris Doctor (JD) in contract and employment law, a PhD in management and has over 20 years of university leadership experience, including senior roles at Griffith University and the University of Auckland. She also has extensive experience in start-up and high technology ventures, is a Graduate of the Australian Institute for Company Directors, and a Fellow of The Australian Institute of Managers (AIM) and The Australia and New Zealand Academy of Management (ANZAM).
