

8th August 2022 4.36pm

All staff email from Professor David G. Lloyd, Vice-Chancellor and President

Dear Colleagues,

As you are aware we have been closely monitoring the incidences and rates of COVID-19 infection in the SA community, and are adapting our approach accordingly and as informed by public health advice.

Based on the State's caseload and trajectory of COVID-19 infections since 25th July, please note the following adjustments to the university's COVID-19 management measures:

- Mask wearing is no longer a general mandatory requirement, but is strongly recommended in all indoor shared spaces on all UniSA campuses. Please note that certain university activities and settings do still require mask wearing under ongoing public health mandates.
- As per Academic Board's recent determination, lectures and examinations will remain online.
- Face to face meetings, teaching and research activities can transition as appropriate over the coming days back to being conducted in person.

As always, your understanding and cooperation in navigating the implementation of these measures is hugely appreciated.

Best regards